Dear [Hiring Manager Name],

I'm writing to apply for the [Job Title] role at [Company Name]. I've spent the past 10+ years building full-stack products end to end — from architecture to deployment — and I bring both the technical rigor of a senior engineer and the strategic instincts of someone who has built and run his own ventures. That combination is what I'd bring to your team.

As Senior Software Engineer at MiClynics Innovation, I architected a telemedicine platform supporting real-time video consultations, secure prescription workflows, and provider analytics — built on Laravel, MySQL, and React Native, deployed through automated CI/CD pipelines on DigitalOcean. Earlier, at Valpulse Services and Sells Rocket, I owned mobile release lifecycles and backend microservices that improved platform performance and shipped reliably at scale. Alongside this, I've spent years as a freelance developer and consultant, building e-learning platforms and integrating six different payment gateways — including Paystack, Flutterwave, and Stripe — into production systems handling real revenue.

What sets me apart is that I don't just write code to spec — I think about the business outcome behind it. I've taken products from a blank repository to paying users, handled the marketing and design alongside the engineering, and learned firsthand what separates software that works from software that wins in the market. I'd bring that same ownership to this role.

I'd welcome the chance to talk through how my background fits what your team is building. Thank you for your time and consideration — I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Abdulrahman Bello
